“Flores-Lowery said Kinesiology would like to talk about putting the requirement for 2 units of Kinesiology back into GE. She said it was taken out a few years ago partly on concerns about students in high unit majors having two more units that are not necessarily related to their major. However, research shows there are many mind and body benefits to physical activity that can help students stay healthy and succeed. She said with the implementation of Guided Pathways there should be a place for 2 units of kinesiology.”
